

42milligrams

website development | graphic design | custom solutions

hello world

we are 42 milligrams

We are 42 milligrams, a team of consultants, developers and designers. We are professional problem solvers who are here to help you succeed. We love what we do, and we're pretty good at it.

We are a diverse team of professionals dedicated to bringing client ideas and concepts to life.

Over the years, we have worked with a wide range of businesses, big and small, spanning several different industries - building projects that range from benefit package comparison tools to complete product life cycle systems.

We take pride in our quick response time as well as our one-on-one communication with each of our clients.

creating custom solutions for your business needs

Your company is unique. Your business tools should be just as unique, designed around how your business operates. They should be dynamic enough to grow with your business, yet rigid enough to establish a consistent working environment. Your business tools should be working for you, not the other way around.

That's why we build individual, custom solutions. We give you tools that work for you, are specific to your company, and give you something that your competitors don't have.

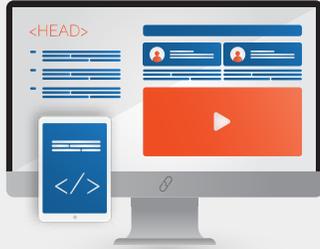

we always push the envelope to develop the best solution for you.

Sometimes, you need a solution that just doesn't exist. That's where we can help. We have the skills and experience required to develop that specific solution for your business.

With over 20 years of proven experience creating custom web applications, we know how to make things happen.

Our team solves problems every day. Limits are being tested and new theories are being applied to each project. If our employees are not learning something new from every project, then we have not pushed the envelope enough.

This methodology enables us to confidently deliver the best solution possible for the project at hand.

website development

The web is constantly evolving, so it is important that your site changes along with it. Our programmers are well versed in the latest technology and use that knowledge during the development of our clients' websites. Whether you need a team to manage your current site, have an existing site that needs new functionality, or you want to build a completely new website from scratch, we have the talent and tools to meet your needs.

custom business solutions

In an ever-changing business world, it's important to always stay one step ahead of your competition. Our team will work with you to accomplish this by developing custom tools that are designed specifically for the operations of your business. Our developers have the ability to program and implement everything from a single control to a complete suite of tools that all work in unison to optimize performance.

don't think of us as just a vendor think of us as your business partner.

We want to be part of your team, working together to create a long term relationship. Give us your project requirements; we'll start there and take care of the rest.

Our customers will always be the most important part of what we do, so building a close relationship is critical.

We go beyond just getting to know your team; we take the time to understand the finer details of your business. This provides us the insight needed to create the most appropriate solution for each project we take on.

We'll work together with you to create the desired result, while keeping in mind the budget and time frame for each project.

mobile development

Custom web applications work great when your team has access to a laptop or desktop machine. But what if your remote/on-site team members do not have access to a computer? Our team can build and deploy supplemental mobile apps to work with your web-based applications. Our mobile development team will see that your solution will function seamlessly and properly on any of the iOS- and Android-based devices.

graphic design

Cosmetics are an important part of your online presence. If your site isn't aesthetically pleasing, potential customers are likely to look elsewhere. Our design team stays on top of the latest design trends and frameworks, making the sites we develop look good on every possible platform. We are always available to manage all of the necessary graphic elements you may need - everything from artwork prep to complete design services.

we don't look good... unless YOU look good

It has always been our goal to achieve a pixel-perfect status for our clients. Being a behind-the-scenes partner allows us to build the stage and present our clients in the spotlight. It's our job to make you look good.

We hold ourselves to a very high standard. Going above and beyond is a major part of what we do to support our clients to the fullest.

We use our experience to guide each client through the development process, providing recommendations whenever a potential client gain is noticed. It always helps to have a second set of eyes.

The end result is a complete project that puts you in the spotlight and your target audience in the theater.

exceptional customer support

Customer support is our number one priority. That's why we keep it in house. Support is always handled by a team member actually involved with the project.

professional integrity

Our goal is to ensure that the best solution is provided for every client, regardless of our involvement. Sometimes that means helping the client utilize existing software to meet their goals.

experienced developers

All of our developers have a proven track record in pushing the envelope to make any concept come to life. Each developer is also versed in customer support.

hosting & support

In addition to supporting all developed solutions, hosting and maintenance packages are offered to assure that your solution is always running at peak performance.

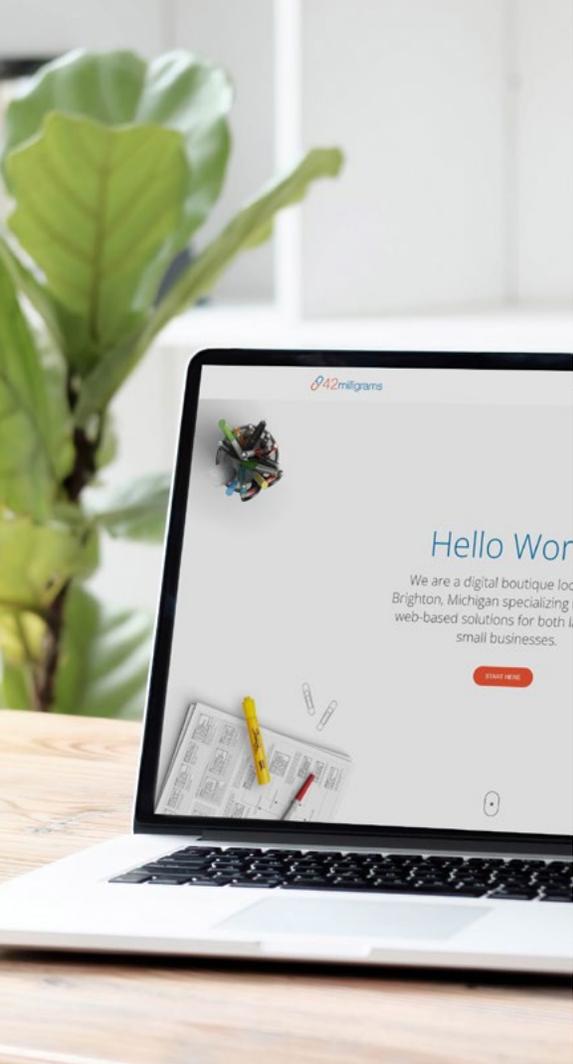

we take your project from an idea to reality.

Each member of our team has their own primary skill set, but that is not enough. All employees have a functional knowledge of each step of the process.

Our full-stack developers are familiar with each layer (or stack) involved in the web development process. Developers that are familiar with the entire process have the ability to make projects easier on their team.

When the entire team has a functional knowledge of the complete process, it makes for a better product, built faster.

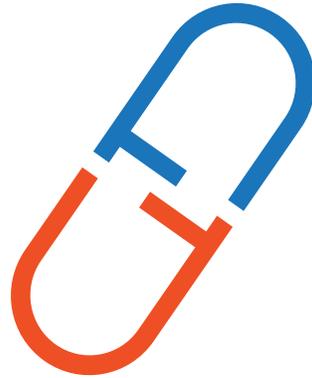

In addition to how it helps our team, our clients see the benefit of never talking to the wrong person.

services offered

It's difficult to list every service we offer, as our service offerings change and expand with each project that we complete. While we can't list every service, we can open ourselves up to conversation by listing the services within our primary focus.

- > custom business solutions
- > website development
- > website maintenance
- > mobile development
- > consulting
- > website hosting
- > graphic design
- > third party integration

for more information on what we offer, visit www.42mg.com

810.299.7100 | hello@42mg.com

2000 Grand River Annex, Suite 200
Brighton, MI 48114